DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME I.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1905.

NUMBER 41

SIDNEY GREEN

A Loved and Honored Citizen

Passes To His Reward.—Death Expected.

A SUFFERER OF HEART DISEASE.

On last Saturday, Sept. 2, 1905, between 12 and 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Death Messenger came and sealed down the eyelids of Mr. Sidney Green, one of Washington county's most prominent and honored citizens, passed to his reward.

Mr. Green had been a resident of Washington county since early childhood, having moved to Springfield from Madison county in 1835, being at that time five years of age. Part of his life was spent upon the farm, and while engaged in this avocation he was recognized as one of the county's most progressive and up-to-date farmers. We doubt whether there was another man in the county better or more favorably known than he. He was Sheriff of the county for two terms, and while serving the people in this capacity he met them in their homes, where he won their profound respect and love. His official duties were accurately attended to at all times, and when he retired from office his hundreds of friends were proud of the record he made.

Mr. Green had been in declining health for two or three years, being a sufferer of heart disease, and while it was hoped that he might survive a few more months, his family and friends were not surprised when he was stricken on last Friday afternoon. Though he gained some strength during the night, and on Saturday morning it was announced he was better, the attending physician knew the end was near, and all members of his family who lived at a distance were notified.

The deceased was born April 8, 1830, in Madison county, Ky., a short time after his parents, James and Mary Green, moved from Virginia to this State.

Mr. Green was married to Miss Katie Kimberlin September 15, 1859, who survives him. Beside the wife he leaves eight children, who mourn the death of a kind father. The children are: Mrs. Samuel Moore, of Sherman, Tex.; Mrs. Roger Handy, of Danbury, Tex.; and William Green, also of Texas. Dr. James, Sidney A. Green, C. A. Green, and Medames Harry R. Thompson and James C. McElroy, of this place.

While the children and friends deeply grieve because of the going away of the father and friend, none are so terribly stricken with grief as the devoted wife. She knew him as none others knew him; she, who forty-six years ago gave into his care her life, and went happily with him on his life's highway, sharing his sorrows and his happiness, weeping with him in his sorrows, to-day, at the parting of the ways, is bowed "neath a grief which pinches the heart with a thousand fingers. To her hundreds of friends offer sincere sympathy.

The deceased was a charitable man, kind to all alike, and was happiest when he could render help to the afflicted. He was a man of a high sense of honor, and in his dealings with men he treated them fairly, taking not the slightest advantage. He was a good neighbor, a true friend and a gentleman of the highest type. The death of such a man who is a severe loss to the people.

Funeral services were conducted at the home yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and the body was buried in Cemetery Hill.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the First National Bank, Springfield, held on Monday, September 4, 1905, the following proceedings were had:

This board deeply deprecates the death of our late colleague, Mr. Sidney Green, who served as a member of the board of directors a number of years. In the board he was uniformly courteous, and while faithful, vigilant and sagacious in business matters, was always respectful and considerate to his colleagues. He was useful to us, and in his death the institution sustains a great loss. Mr. Green was an excellent gentleman. He was socially always genial, kind and pleasant, an amiable and lovely character, and habitually maintained a sweet and equable temper. He was a useful citizen, patriotic and intelligent, having served his State and county in responsible positions and leaving a blameless record, one that his family and friends can feel proud of. In business he was not only just, but generous, never parsimonious, but always desiring to do right and something more. He was strictly honorable. A devoted husband, generous and affectionate father, his loss to his family is irreparable. Having put his house in order, in full possession of his faculties to the last, at 1 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, September 2, 1905, he bravely and unflinchingly, "sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust," with folded hands and closing eyes, sank into pleasant and endless repose and, we believe, a blessed immortality. His was a beautiful, generous and noble life. With saddened hearts, it yet affords us pleasure to be able to bear this truthful testimony to his worth and the high esteem in which he was held. He will be long remembered and as long lamented. To his wife and children this board tender sincere sympathy. It is ordered that the board of directors and the employees of the bank attend the funeral in a body, and that these proceedings be entered at large upon the records of the bank. A copy shall be sent to the family of Mr. Green, and the newspapers in Springfield requested to publish same.

Peace Treaty Signed.

Portsmouth, N. H., September 5.—The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan was signed by the representatives of the two empires at 3:50 p. m. to-day.

One of the articles in the treaty provides for the protection of private rights and property acquired under Russian control in South Sakhalin and in Dalny, Port Arthur and other places in the Liaoning peninsula. The Russian government has had innumerable petitions on this subject. Several of them are from Americans who held concessions in Southern Sakhalin.

Synopsis of Treaty To Be Cabled.

While a full synopsis of the treaty will be cabled to the governments of the two countries, the actual text will not be known at Tokyo or St. Petersburg until the plenipotentiaries arrive. It is expected that to cable such a long document textually would make it possible for an expert later when the text becomes public to work out the government cipher. Mr. Witte will personally convey the text to St. Petersburg and back to Tokyo. This is the real reason why both are anxious to get home as soon as possible, as the treaty does not go into force until the two plenipotentiaries signed. To avoid the delay of exchange of documents which would involve six weeks at least official notification of the Japanese government by the plenipotentiaries to the plenipotentiaries in the case of Japan, and France in the case of Russia. The text of the treaty will not be made public at Portsmouth.

May Never Be Made Public.

If it ever is it will be after it has received the approval of the two emperors. Mr. Witte, when questioned upon this subject, remarked laughingly:

"You are at liberty to announce both in Europe and America that we are willing to make the 'Treaty of Portsmouth' public as soon as the new Anglo-Japanese treaty is given to the world."

The signing of the treaty is to be a very exclusive affair. The Japanese objected to the presence of any newspaper correspondents and it has therefore been decided that besides the plenipotentiaries and secretaries, there shall be present only Assistant-Secretary Peters, representing the president; Gov. McLean, of New Hampshire; the mayor of Portsmouth, Adm. Mead, commander of the navy yard, and the commanders of any United States warships in the harbor.

In this case only Capt. Winslow, of the Mayflower, Mr. Peters has procured four ordinary cull pens with one of each of the plenipotentiaries will sign.

The picture of a woman found in a coat may lead to the identification of the man, believed to have been a soldier, buried in the Ohio river above Louisville.

SCHOOL.

[By Franklin P. Adams.]

O happy little army, on your way to school again. Armed with reader and arithmetic, with blotter and pen; Your hearts are light, your minds are brighter, your lots from worry free. Save from a task as difficult as spelling C-A-T. You'll learn among some other things that two and two are four; That twelve is called a dozen, and that twenty is a score; How many pounds are in ten pennies in a dime; How many hours in a day (how many years in Time).

Your copy books will say, "Great Oaks from Little Acorns Grow;" You'll learn how very wrong it is to say "I ain't got no;" You'll learn how great Columbus was, who found this pleasant land, Though why the earth is round perhaps you may not understand; You'll learn your country's father was the brave and truthful George; Though he got cold feet one winter when he camped at Valley Forge; You'll learn about the battles, though you may forget the dates; That rice and cotton are the exports of the Southern States.

If you would be good children, and obedient and nice, You'd better do the things I say and take my good advice; Don't go with vulgar fractions, they are naughty and low down; And if you would be proper, don't go with a common noun; And try to be impersonal, but do not be an "It;" And don't allow infinitives to ever do the split; Be lovely to your teacher, she knows what she is at; Remember she gets sixty bones a month for doing that.

O laughing little children, on your way to school again. When all you girls are women and all you boys are men, Will your lessons be a pleasure, of will you sit and pout, And anxiously be waiting for your life school to be out? Will the Teacher give you honorable mention when you go To your last and long vacation? May God grant that it be so! And make you noble women and true and loving men, Dear, laughing little children, on your way to school again.

SPARROW.

[Left From Last Week.]

Tobacco raisers are busy cutting their crops, which is extra good. Mr. W. R. Moore claims to have the best tobacco crop in this community, the tip leaves measuring thirty-eight inches in length and twenty inches in width.

Mr. R. N. Vowels sold an extra good cow and calf to Thomas Baxter for $40. Mr. R. N. Vowels took his son, Kline, to Louisville last week to consult an eye specialist.

Mrs. S. E. Vowels has been quite sick for several days. Mrs. Elizabeth Timley, who has been quick since some time, does not improve much.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, of Symamore Valley, spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents at this place. Mr. E. T. Mitchell was pleasantly surprised last Thursday by several of his relatives, who tendered him a birthday dinner, which was much enjoyed by all present.

Dr. W. T. Barnett, of Mackville, was called to see his grandmother, Mrs. S. E. Vowels, last Wednesday. Mr. W. R. Moore and family spent Saturday and Sunday with his mother at Leavenworth, Mo.

Rev. C. A. Allen, quite an able divinity, will preach at the old "Barnet" church on Sunday, September 10, at 4 o'clock p. m.

Mr. W. H. Black, of Black, Ky., will have a sale of land and personal property on September 12, when one will have an opportunity to buy a farm, a good horse, good cattle, or some good sheep.

Quite a number from this place attended the fair at Lawrenceburg, and we learn there were several weddings.

Your correspondent attended court at Lawrenceburg last Monday. There was a large crowd present. There was also a large number of mules on the market, and about forty changed hands at reasonable prices.

Colonel William Neale, who died in North Carolina, August 18, aged eighty-seven, was buried in the Leathers graveyard last Monday. He was born and reared in Anderson county, and was twice its representative in the State Legislature. He was always loyal to his friends, and asked no favors of his enemies. He will be long remembered by many people in the county.

We think the Sun the best county paper published, and hope it will ever be successful.

McINTIRE.

Misses Estelle and Alma Ballard, of Holy Cross, were guests at the home of Mr. Hilroy McIntire Saturday and Sunday last.

Mr. Time Cecil was called to New Albany last week by the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. James Burnes.

Mr. R. A. McIntire, who has been quite sick for some time, is slightly improved.

Master Johnnie Ensor, of Springfield, after a protracted visit to relatives at this place, has returned home.

Misses Louie and Mary Rose Fields, Susie and Flora Keene, and Alma Orkies attended the fair at Bardston on Saturday.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. J. A. Medley's two small children, who have been very sick, are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Corbett and Mrs. Joseph Cambron and daughter, of Blincoe, visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Alma Orkies was the guest of Miss Flora Keene Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Baddie Scanlan and daughter, of Louisville, were at St. Rose on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clements, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Clements.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. McIntire, of Fredericktown, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Brengle one day last week.

Mr. Ben. D. Clements, who has been engaged in the mercantile business at Uniontown, has sold out and is visiting his parents at this place.

HARDESTY.

Tobacco cutting is the order of the day.

Messrs. Will, Shirley and Earl Cheatham, of Williamsburg, were in our vicinity Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. S. G. Hardesty, of Lebanon, is visiting relatives and friends in this community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Scott visited Mr. T. C. Montgomery Sunday.

The farm owned by Mrs. J. L. Williams was offered for sale Saturday, but was taken down at $1,160.

Miss Lela Gooditt, who has been spending the summer at Mr. Johnnie Wells', has returned home.

Mr. Richard Scruggs and Miss Clara Shepherd were in our vicinity Sunday.

Mr. Edgar Gray lost a very valuable horse last week while at the Bardston fair. The animal died of acute indigestion.

WILLISBURG.

The death of Mr. Sidney Green, of Springfield, is deeply regretted by many in this community, where he was a county official for a number of years. Mr. Green was quite popular here. Your correspondent and a host of friends of the deceased extend condolence to the bereaved ones.

John F. Reynolds left for Chicago, Ill., one day last week.

Dr. Gibbs, of Anderson county, is visiting his son, W. S. Gibbs, this week. Mrs. W. S. Browley visited her sister, Mrs. George Frasier, one day last week.

Miss Ella May Cheatham, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Trent, has returned to her home in Louisville.

Misses May Belle Gibbs and Mattie Brown visited in Anderson county a few days last week.

Miss Lula Trent is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. B. Wells.

Mrs. Rufus Foster and little daughter, Thelma, visited her aunt, Mrs. Tom Noel, last week.

Ed. Masters spent last Wednesday with Mrs. M. A. Shirley.

Mrs. Arch Birch and little daughter, Jennie, spent last week with Mrs. H. Greenwood.

FEVER SUBSIDING.

Number Of New Cases In New Orleans 29

With Three Deaths Sunday.—A Feeling of Confidence.

CAPT. B. F. CLAYTON STRICKEN.

New Orleans, Sept. 4.—Official report to 6 p. m. Sunday: New cases, 29; total to date, 2,024; deaths, 2; total to date, 287; new deaths, 1; cases under treatment, 305; cases discharged, 1,432.

New Orleans, Sept. 4.—For the first time in over a month the number of new cases of yellow fever were in the twenties. With only three deaths, compared to 33 deaths on September 3, 1878, the feeling of confidence that the fever is being wiped out is growing. Among the new cases is that of Capt. B. F. Clayton, U. S. army, the quartermaster in charge of this department. City Councilman E. T. Dunn is also on the list.

The country situation, while not what it should be, is improving somewhat, though the discovery of new cases causes some little anxiety. Despite the rigid regulations providing for the use of health certificates for people coming here from infected places it is believed that many persons have succeeded in getting in from some of the country places.

The situation at Patterson, where it was feared the ignorant Italians contemplated trouble, has developed nothing new. No overt act has been committed and it is believed danger is over.

Saiting the Gutters.

Sunday nearly all of the city carts were used in the work of salting the gutters. It has been found that since the mosquitoes have been deprived of their favored breeding places, the stagnant gutters on cross streets are filled with wiggle-tails, so special efforts are being made to render these places more agreeable.

There is much interest in the case of Dr. P. H. Hardesty, the physician who was arrested last Saturday night on the charge of failing to report three cases of yellow fever. He was paroled by the inspector, but will have to answer to the charge. He says that he reported the cases by mail, but the marine hospital service has no record of them.

Outside cases: There has been a recrudescence at Tallulah, in Madison parish, not far from Vicksburg, three cases have been found. A report from Levee, under date of September 1 shows that there have been 312 cases there so far and 29 deaths with 145 cases under treatment. Patterson one new case. St. Bernard, Corinae, two cases. Torrance, Bouff, one; Morgan City, one new case. St. Rosa, three cases. Gulfport, five new cases. Handsboro (one of Mississippi City), one case. Vicksburg, two new cases.

Detained at Quarantine.

New York, Sept. 4.—The Hamburg-American line steamship Blucher, the first vessel to arrive from Hamburg since the appearance of cholera in Germany, was detained at quarantine for more than two hours under inspection.

Yellow Fever Case in Indian Territory. Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 4.—Maj. Gen. Haynes, commanding the Arkansas militia, which is furnishing the guards to enforce the state quarantine, was officially informed of the existence of a case of yellow fever at Mayfield, T. T.

WHAT JAPAN HAS WON.

The Mikado's empire has obtained a place among the great Powers of the world.

Japan has wrested from Russia the control of the Liaoting Peninsula, including Port Arthur, Dalian and the Blonde and Elliott Islands, thus at one stroke getting revenge for past indignities and what to her are the prime fruits of victory.

By Japan's victories she has forced Russia to present to the open door for all nations in Manchuria.

A "preponderant influence" in Korea has been obtained, an influence which admits the right of Japan to give military and financial advice to the Emperor of Korea.

Japan obtained the retrocession to China of the East ern Railroad, which runs south from Harbin. Furthermore, a change of control which will aid Japan in a financial sense.

Japan has forced the limitation of the Chinese concession of 1896, under which the "cut off" through Northern Manchuria was built to connect the Trans-Siberian and the Ussuri Railroad, so as to provide for the retention and ownership of the line by the Chinese Eastern. Chinese Imperial police are to be substituted for the Russian railroad guards.

Japan's Winnings; Russia's Losses.

Brief Story of a Bloody War.

WHAT RUSSIA HAS LOST.

Russia has lost her position as a ranking naval power. Her fleet in the Pacific is cut to pieces and her great Baltic fleet has been destroyed.

Russia has been routed from the Liaoting Peninsula, from Dalian, the Blonde and Elliott Islands and from Port Arthur, the great harbor fortress that gave the Czar a position of dominance in Eastern affairs.

The southern half of Sakhalin Island is lost to Russia. Russia has been compelled by force of Japanese arms to consent that all nations shall have full trade facilities in Manchuria, a privilege which she formerly jealously withheld.

The Czar's Government refused before the war to recognize any right of Japan to seek influence and trade in Korea. As a result of the war Japan is given a preponderant influence in the Hermit Kingdom, with full power to advise the Emperor on all matters pertaining to commerce and to war.

Russia has recognized Chinese ownership in the Eastern Railroad connecting Port Arthur with Harbin. This involved a retrocession to China by reason of property rights, and gives to Japan an opportunity to recoup her finances.

The Czar loses all influence in Manchuria, a province which his Government was absorbing.

Let Him Rest.

(Frank L. Stanton.)

When a fellow does his best,
Being weary, let him rest.
"Tis his right to leave the fight—
Fold the banners with the night,
And to sleep—the battle o'er—
Where the battle breaks no more.

When a fellow does his best,
Neath the still stars let him rest;
In some silent, shadowed place,
Let the daisies hide his face.
Neath the brooding wings of peace,
Where life's battle-thunders cease.

When a fellow does his best,
Fold the tired hands o'er the breast
With a smile, and not a sigh,
"Speed you, comrade, and good-by!"
"Tis his right to leave the fight,
Where God's darkness dreams of light!

WM. YORK IN JAIL

At Louisville, but Coroner's Jury Failed to Fix Crime of Murder, and Prisoner Urges Immediate Trial in Circuit Court.

Anderson News: The jury summoned by Coroner G. D. Lillard to investigate the murder of James R. York, Sr., which occurred on the 18th of August, while the entire family were absent at the fair, failed to elicit any evidence tending to point out the identity of the murderer. The jury was called on the day after the killing and viewed the remains and present where the crime was committed, and then adjourned and met for the final hearing on Saturday afternoon. There were five witnesses heard, but no evidence of importance was brought out. The Commonwealth was represented by Attorney W. H. Morgan, and Attorney M. W. Ripp, of Louisville, was here looking after the interest of William H. York, who is now in jail in Louisville under the charge of having committed the crime.

By the advice of the attorneys, W. H. York, the accused brother of James R. York, Sr., has waived an examining trial, and there will be no further investigation until the matter is taken up by the grand jury next week. It is understood, however, that the prisoner is urging an immediate trial in the Circuit Court in order that he may have a chance to prove his innocence, which he stoutly maintains, to all who see him. While there are many ugly circumstances in the case, which would seem hard to explain, there are many of the best citizens of the county who heartily wish that he may be able to prove his whereabouts at the time of the killing and regain his liberty. There is a deep demand for the punishment of the real criminal in case he is discovered, but all hope that this old soldier may prove to be innocent, both for his own and his children's sake.

Just before noon Monday, James R. York, of this city, was taken into custody upon a warrant charging him with being accessory before the fact in the York murder case, and was placed in the county jail, where he is being closely guarded and is not allowed to see or talk with any person about the case. In talk with the jailer, however, he said that he had already told the detective all that he knew about the case, and had nothing more to say about it.

A CALL

For Democratic Primary Election, to Be Held In the Magisterial Districts of Washington County, on Saturday, Oct. 14, 1905.

At a meeting of the members of the Democratic Committee of Washington County, Kentucky, held at Springfield, Ky., on August 28, 1905, a Democratic Primary Election was called for Saturday, October 14, 1905, between the hours of 6 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., in each of the Magisterial Districts in Washington County, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic Candidate for Justice of the Peace and for the office of Constable in each of said Districts. All candidates for said nomination shall, in writing, declare their candidacy to B. B. Leachman, Chairman, not later than the 29th day of September, 1905, and in the event that only one person so declares himself a candidate for said nomination in any one district for any one office, then the call for the Primary Election in that district is to be null and void, and the person having so declared himself a candidate for said nomination shall be a Democratic nominee in that district, and the Chairman and Secretary of this meeting are hereby authorized and empowered to make a certificate to that effect to the Clerk of the Washington County Court; and the first person so notifying said County Chairman of his intention to become a candidate in the manner as above set out, shall pay to said County Chairman the cost of holding a Primary Election in the precinct in which he is a candidate, and the second person in each Magisterial District, who shall announce his intention to become a candidate as herein before set out, shall pay to the said Chairman one-half the cost of conducting the Primary in said precinct, and a third candidate one-third of the cost of conducting a Primary in said district, and so on with each succeeding candidate, and an excess collected from the first candidates entering said Primary shall be returned to said candidates in proportion to the amount that each is entitled thereto. Said Primary Election shall be held at the usual voting place in each voting precinct in each Magisterial District, at which election all known Democrats who will pledge themselves to support the nominee of said Primary, and all known Democrats (young) who will be legal voters in the November election, 1905, shall constitute the electors in said Primary Election, and said Primary Election shall be conducted in the manner and form prescribed by law, and the returns, with ballots, boxes, seals, tally sheets and stubs, shall be made in the manner fixed by law, to B. B. Leachman, Chairman of the County Committee, at Springfield, Ky., on the 16th day of October, 1905, and he, together with the County Committee, shall, on the 17th day of October, 1905, meet and canvass the returns and declare the nominees of said Primary Election. No person's name shall be entered as a candidate in said Primary Election until he has paid his proportionate part of the cost of such said Primary Election in the District in which he proposes to become a candidate. No polls will be open in any district where there are no candidates for the nomination who have complied with this call. B. B. LEACHMAN, Chairman.

R. H. MULLIGAN, Secretary.

What Will Bryan Do?

Already the national campaign of 1908 is attracting attention. Party leaders are planning for the fray and political prophets are at work. That great and important section known as the Middle West is receiving the lion's share of attention just now, especially by the newspapers. Edward Lissner, staff correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, writing from Council Bluffs, Iowa, under date of August 25, says, among other things:

The Democracy in the Middle West, after marking time for four years, from 1900 to 1904, unable to reach a conclusion whether the conservatives of the East were right and Mr. Bryan wrong in 1896 and 1900, is slowly going back to radicalism along the lines of the Kansas City and Chicago platforms. Those Democrats in that section who, actuated by the cry of Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, in wanting a man who could win, were instrumental in inducing the Middle West to support Alton B. Parker and give the management of the campaign into the hands of the conservatives of the East, have for the time being retired from political activity, shorn of much power and prestige. Whether they will at some future day re-enter the field and attempt to stem the tide of radicalism few know. Most of these conservatives realize that the feeling against them throughout this section is strong and that it would be folly at the present to cross swords with the radical wing under the leadership of the magnetic and brilliant William J. Bryan.

Three questions destined to become political issues occupy at the present day the attention of the Middle West. They are the tariff, which the stand-patters can not down, the trusts and the freight-rate regulation, and one or all are apt to figure in the campaign of 1908.

Just what part Mr. Bryan will play that year is now a question of more than ordinary interest. The Middle West links him with Theodore Roosevelt and regards them as the two greatest living Americans. It believes that they were the followers of either to control both houses of Congress our economic evils would be cured, that both are handicapped by an element in their party subservient to "the money power," which ties their hands. The Middle West will stand for no candidate for Congress, be he Democrat or Republican, who will not support the President on the railroad rate controversy and on trusts, and it will retire those from their section who oppose him at the coming extra session. There is also the feeling that if a Democratic President, under the guidance of Wm. J. Bryan, if not a Nebraska himself, will, and this brings back the question of what part Mr. Bryan is apt to play in the next national campaign.

The Laughin' Man.

(Houston Post.)

He didn't scale no dizzy heights,
Nor make a name sublime
He walked the common crowded ways
A-laughin' all the time.

He stopped where little children played,
An' kissed away the grime
When they hurt, and soothed their furies,
A-laughin' all the time.

He used to sing a queer old song,
His feet a-beatin' time;
"When I'm done laughin'," he would say,
And laughin' all the time.

Now he's done laughin' in this world,
But I'd one bet a dime
He romps with baby angels now
A-laughin' all the time.

STOLEN

Were Indictments from Clerk's Office at Mt. Sterling.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 4.—Much excitement was created here by the discovery that the circuit clerk's office had been broken into some time during the night and almost 75 indictments stolen, many of them for felony cases. The regular term of court opens Monday, and the loss will delay proceedings, but all the indictments can be substituted, as they have been recorded, and the record book was overlooked by the thieves. The indictments were mainly for gambling, illegal liquor selling and stealing. Bloodhounds were sent for and ranged on the trail, but so many had tramped over the ground that it was impossible for them to pick up the scent.

KILLED

By Car While Fighting on the Track.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 4.—One negro was killed, two fatally and a fourth seriously injured by a street car south of Louisville. The negroes were on a Seventh street car bound for a park and began fighting when two miles out of the city. The car was stopped and all four ejected, but they recommenced the fight and while standing on the tracks a car bound for the city dashed into the combatants with the result noted. None of the injured was sufficiently conscious to give the names of any of the party when there was no other means of identifying them.

TRAGEDY.

Six-Year-Old Boy Shot and Killed the Baby.

Newport, Ky., Sept. 2.—A tragedy in "Babylonia" was enacted Friday afternoon at the home of George Meyer, a farmer, residing about nine miles back of Newport, on the Licking pike, in Campbell county. Innocence was the victim of innocence and the lifeless form of Meyer's 12-months-old daughter reposes on the couch where she peacefully slept when the six-year-old brother crept up and fired a ball into her breast. The parents were out in a field digging onions and left the little son Edwin at the house to care for the baby. Mr. Meyer kept a revolver under the pillow of his bed for use in case of burglars. Edwin found the weapon and began playing with it. Just what happened after he gained possession of the revolver is not known, as the lad was too hastily frightened to make a rational statement. But Mr. and Mrs. Meyer heard the report of a gun, and running to the house, saw their baby in the throes of death on the bed, on which but a short time before the mother had placed her. Her life-blood was trickling out of a wound in the left breast. The deadly weapon was lying on the floor.

FIGHT

On Train Results in One Man Being Instantly Killed.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31.—Alfred Ray was instantly killed and William Blain was fatally shot during a riot on north-bound train No. 24 of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. The shooting occurred as the train was passing Stephentown, Ky., at which place the two victims lived. John Huebank, the negro porter on the train, is in jail at Harrodsburg charged with murder, and a colored woman is held as a witness and possible participant in the affray. According to the statement of the trainmen Ray and Blain with a number of friends boarded the train at Harrodsburg. All had been drinking and became involved in trouble with the conductor over the payment of fares. Later, as the negro Huebank entered the coach set apart for negroes, where the white men had established themselves, it is alleged that Ray and Blain and the others violently abused him and a negro woman passenger. The shooting followed, but the conductor of the train was unable to state whether the porter or the negro woman or both used revolvers.

Sale of Fine Horses.

On Monday, September 11th, 1905, (County Court day), Ben. Johnson will sell all the stallions, mares and colts purchased by him from the Lancaster estate. This will not be a feeding-out sale, but every one of them will be sold. In the lot is a full brother to Clophas, her dam a half sister, and various other relations. A yearling out of Linnie sold at public auction last June for $3,100. Mr. Johnson has sold three foals from her in the last three years for $8,250. This mare, now with foal to Requila, one of the best sires in the world, will be sold in the lot. The Kentucky Standard is now printing the sale catalogue, which will be mailed to any applicant to Mr. Johnson for it.

These horses will positively be sold, whether they bring much or little. The sale will be on Public square, September 11, at 1 o'clock, in Harrodsburg, Ky.

ROOSEVELT ON TEMPERANCE

Speech Delivered Before the Catholic Abstinence Union of America.

The Common: President Roosevelt's speech at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., before the annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, is one of the best the President has made. It is a wholesome and helpful speech. The Catholic Total Abstinence Union is doing a very important work, and the President is to be commended for lending the influence of his great office to the movement.

Strong drink is the fruitful cause of immense amount of misery, and total abstinence, while not the only remedy, is the surest preventive. The President has added to the sum of human happiness by his visit to Wilkes-Barre.

At that occasion Mr. Roosevelt spoke as follows:

I am particularly glad to speak to this audience of miners and their wives and children, and especially to speak under the auspices of this great temperance society.

In our country the happiness of all the rest of our people depends most of all upon the welfare of the wage-worker and the welfare of the farmer. If we can secure the welfare of these two classes we can be reasonably certain that the community as a whole will prosper. And we must never forget that the chief factor in securing the welfare alike of wage-worker and of farmer, as of everybody else, must be the man himself.

The only effective way to help anybody is to help him help himself. There are exceptional times when any one of us needs outside help, and then it should be given freely; but normally each of us must depend upon his own exertions for his own success. Something can be done by wise legislation and by wise and honest administration of the laws; that is, something can be done by our action taken in our collective capacity through the state and the nation.

Something more can be done by combination and organization among ourselves in our private capacities as citizens, so long as this combination or organization is managed with wisdom and with respect upon the rights of those benefited and yet with just regard for the rights of others.

But in the last analysis the factor most influential in determining any man's success must be the sum of that man's own qualities of his knowledge, foresight, thrift, and courage. Whatever tends to increase his self-respect, whatever tends to help him overcome the temptations with which all of us are surrounded, is a benefit not only to him, but to the whole community.

No one society can do more to help the wage-worker than such a temperance society as that which I am now addressing. It is of incalculable consequence to the man himself that he keep his temper, and temperate, and it is of even more consequence to his wife and his children; for it is a hard and cruel fact that in this life of ours the sins of the man are often visited most heavily upon those whose welfare should be his own special care.

For the drunkard, for the man who loses his job because he can not control or will not control his desire for liquor and for vicious pleasures, we have a feeling of anger and contempt mixed with our pity; but for his unfortunate wife and little ones we feel only pity, and that of the deepest and tenderest kind.

Everything possible should be done to encourage the growth of that spirit of self-respect, self-restraint, self-reliance, which, if it only grows enough, is certain to make all those in whom it shows itself move steadily upward toward the highest standard of American citizenship. It is a proud and responsible privilege to be citizens of this great self-respecting nation; and each one needs to keep steadily before his eyes the fact that he is wholly unfit to take part in the work of governing others unless he can first govern himself.

He must stand up manfully for his own rights; he must respect the rights of others; he must obey the law and he must try to live up to the rules of righteousness which are above and behind all laws.

This applies just as much to the man of great wealth as to the man of small means; to the capitalist as to the wage-worker. And as one practical point I must urge that in the event of any difficulty, especially if it is what is known as a labor trouble, both sides show themselves willing to meet, willing to consult, and anxious each to treat the other with the greatest fairness; each to look at the other's side of the case and to do the other justice. If only this course could be generally followed the chance of industrial disaster would be minimized.

Now, my friends, I want to read you an extract from a letter I have just received from a Catholic priest, whom I know well, and whom I know to be as staunch a friend of the laboring man as there is to be found in this country. Now and then—not too often—it is a good thing for all of us to hear what is not perhaps altogether palatable, but truth only that the person who tells it is our genuine friend, knows what he is talking about (even though he may not see all sides of the case), and who will not say anything but what he desires to hurt our feelings, but with the transparent purpose to do us good.

With this foreword, here is a part of the letter:

"I would highly recommend that you lend your entire weight to the cause which the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America represents, and especially so in its relation to the working classes of this country, for whom it is doing so much good. You know that the temperance movement is a potent auxiliary to the institutions of our country in building up a better manhood and a truer Christianity among our citizens. It played a very important part in the two coal strikes of 1900 and 1902, respectively, by keeping the men sober, and thus removing the danger of riotous and unbecoming conduct. There is one discouraging feature connected with the upward tendency of the wage scale among the workmen of this country. The higher the wages, the more money they spend in saloons. The shorter the hours, the more they are inclined to absent themselves from home. An apparent disregard for family ties is growing among the poorer classes which will eventually lead to a disregard for the blessings our country affords them. Hence, with an increase of wages a corresponding movement for better manhood, nobler citizenship and truer Christianity should be set on foot. The dignity of labor should be maintained, which can be done only through the love that a man should have for his work, and through the intelligence which he puts into it. A steady hand and sober mind are necessary for this. Hence the necessity of the temperance cause and of the efforts which organized abstainers are putting into the movement."

Now, in what is here written this priest does not mean that the tendency is to grow worse; but he means that, with shorter hours and increased wages, there is a tendency to go wrong which must be offset by movements, such as the great temperance movement, and similar efforts for social and civic betterment, or else the increase in leisure and money will prove a curse instead of a blessing. I strive never to tell anyone what I do not thoroughly believe, and I shall not be practical point to be honest and temperate and hard-working and thrifty will always bring success.

The hand of the Lord is sometimes heavy upon the just as well as upon the unjust, and in the life of labor and effort which we must lead on this earth it is not always possible, either by work, by wisdom, or by upright behavior, to ward off disaster. But it is most emphatically true that the chance for leading a happy and prosperous life is immensely improved if only the man is decent, sober, industrious, and exercises foresight and judgment.

Let him remember above all that the performance of duty is the first essential to right living, and that a good type of average family life is the corner stone of every nation's happiness and greatness. No man can be a good citizen, can deserve the respect of his fellow, unless first of all he is a good man in his own family, unless he does his duty faithfully by his wife and children.

I strongly believe in trades unions, and I believe that the right of the worker to the right of his own property, those connected with them is not accompanied by a desire to do injustice or wrong to others. I believe in the duty of capitalists and wage-workers to try to seek the common good, to understand each other's point of view, and to endeavor to show broad and kindly human sympathy one with the other.

I believe in the work of these great temperance organizations, of all kind of movements like the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations; in short, in every movement which strives to help a man by teaching him how to help himself.

But, most of all, I believe in the efficacy of the best man himself striving continually to increase his own self-respect by the way in which he does his duty to himself and to his neighbor.

JUROR

Accused of Accepting a Bribe—Hung the Jury.

Russellville, Ky., Sept. 2.—The jury in the Fletcher criminal assault trial was discharged, as it was hopelessly hung. The jury stood 11 for the death penalty and one, N. E. Christian, for 20 years in the penitentiary. There is much dissatisfaction with the verdict and the people of this community, who had been calculating and insisting on a verdict of guilty, are again muttering the same kind of threats that brought troops here to protect the prisoners. It is claimed that Jesse Fletcher told Christian to meet him at Clark's boarding house and he would give him the rest of the money he had on him. In fact, an affidavit has been sworn to that effect and a warrant is being issued for Christian charging him with bribery. Christian at the depot before he was advised by several to leave town was very nervous. He remarked: "Yes, men, I want to get out as quick as possible."

No Burials in San Francisco.

"It is a fact not generally known that no burials of human bodies are now allowed in the city or county of San Francisco, Cal.," said a Birmingham man who recently visited the Pacific coast. "The higher the dead bodies must be cremated unless they are shipped away. There are many cemeteries in San Francisco and some of them are quite old. Several are beautifully laid out and look like pretty parks, but all burials in them have been stopped because they have not the space to spare. San Francisco is built upon a narrow neck of land with the ocean on one side and the bay on two other sides. All the land is needed for building purposes, and much land on which the city now stands was reclaimed from the water by filling in. It was shown a large crematory in one of the cemeteries. It looked much like an elaborate tomb and had a big dome on the top. As we passed it I detected a peculiar odor and was told that a cremation was going on. The idea seemed gruesome, but it is regarded as quite common and practical by the people of San Francisco."—Birmingham News.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for a man named "Mick." "Mick" he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucken's Arnica Salve, and the blood dried up and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were hurt in the same manner, and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by C. J. Haydon, druggist.

New York's famous subway bar room has passed out of existence as a "sanctified saloon."

KENTUCKY

Will Buy Blood Hounds to Scent Her Criminals.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 31.—The use of the bloodhounds in a number of murder cases over the State within the last year has suggested that a state kennel should be established by act of the legislature, as has been done in a number of southern states in the last few years. The next general assembly will be asked to consider the proposition. The bloodhounds are by the state prison commission, as kennels, if provided for, would very probably be established at the main penitentiary here.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus With One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler, of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some mouse meat and it gave me cholera morbus. I was very sick and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were hurt in the same manner, and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by C. J. W. C. GRIGSBY, The Optician,

WILL BE IN SPRINGFIELD

Saturday, Sept. 9,

At The Walton Hotel, where he will be prepared to test the eyes, fit and adjust glasses. If you have any trouble with your eyes, you should see him, and he will frankly tell you what is to be done. He has made a special study of eye-testing and glass fitting, and guarantees satisfaction. We use no guess work in fitting glasses. Each frame is made to fit the patient's face. Remember the date, Saturday, September 9, at The Walton Hotel.

We have often thought that people heaped too much abuse upon the thorn. But it is all right in its place. We have always had the utmost respect for the thorn because there is no deceit about it. It's nude; it has no concealments to make by means of leaves, or buds, or barks. There are the three sharp prongs--each a warning that you will be stuck if you don't mind out. Sometimes a pretty rose conceals a bumble bee beneath its leaves. What ever of bud can be said of the thorn it can not be said that it conceals and harbors bumble bees.

Lot's of people who think they "return good for evil" send the "good" out in a slop bucket."

A woman's magazine announces that women are becoming--wiser and wiser every day. Then, how are so many marriages accounted for?

Life! It's a dangerous thing--dangerous because a few years of it may get you in hell.

Right now is the time to put a lock on the coal house door. Shut the thief out early and maybe he will see the necessity of "laying in his coal" by that honorable method of brow-sweating.

Did you ever stoop for just one minute and think about the "habit of profane swearing"? Did it ever occur to you that every individual who takes the name of the Almighty in vain is a criminal? He violates the law, just like the man who steals a horse violates the law. Cussing is a filthy habit; it's worse than chewing long green tobacco and spitting on your shirt bosom. Let's quit cussing--and chew a little more long green tobacco, and spit a little more "amber" on our shirt bosoms.

Laugh and Make Others Laugh.

Louisville Herald: Laugh. Laugh all you can. Laugh morning, noon and night at least. Laugh when you leave home; laugh when you meet wife or babe from home; laugh when, after the day's labor, you return to the dear ones at the fireside of peace, comfort and contentment.

Laugh to pay your debts. You owe this old world a great deal, and the world demands pay in laughter, not simulated or sickly, but sincere and hearty. For you the sun in the morning raises to afford another day of peace and prosperity. It smiles. Do you respond with a smile? For you the city or the countryside awakes in gladness. Are you glad, too? For you your home is brightened by wife, smile and bab's cheery call. Are you responsive with brightness and joy?

Begin the day with laughter. It is the best of all stimulants. It nerves to gladness, healthful deeds. It opens up your own and gratifies every other heart within your reach. Leave behind, as you quit the fireside, a good, hearty laugh. It will ring through every room and hallway and every of your home till you return.

A moment of despondency may cross wife and children's existence during the absence of husband and father. But the memory of his laugh in the morning will banish the cloud and set the family laughing to the cheerful, charming laugh of the home coming. Laugh when you meet your neighbor. He may be under a passing reign of gloom. Your laugh will lift the load from his heart. He will go to his place of business cheered, charmed and encouraged.

Meet your own business with a laugh. That business may be serious. It may be even menacing. But don't fret. Just put on a smile and resolve to do the best you can. Be a pessimist, and every threatened loss or grief will be tenfold harder to bear. Laugh and make friends.

The cheerful man is a friend-winner and a friend-keeper. The human race is so built that it shows grief. Man was made for Eden, not for Hades. He instinctively and inevitably seeks the cheerful companion. Laugh and go on to victory. Did you ever see the man with glad hand, open heart and cheerful, winsome smile in an election contest? He comes in an easy winner every time over the prophet of blue ruin.

Laugh, and all the world laughs with you. Laughter is one of the richest of earth's possessions. The ancients gave god-like honors to laughter. Jupiter, king of gods and men, was the deity of laughter. For seven days after his birth old Jove laughed incessantly. But don't die laughing, even if examples seem to justify it. What to you if Chalcas the Soothsayer died of laughter at the thought of having outlived the predicted hour of death? What to you if Philomenes died laughing when he saw an ass eating the figs prepared for his own dessert? What to you if Zeuxis, the Athenian painter, died laughing at the sight of a -hag he had himself painted? What to you if Margutte died of laughter on witnessing a monkey's efforts to pull on a pair of shoes? Interesting, however, to you that Mayor Grainger, of Louisville, was saved from death through laughter by the General Council's refusing that gas stock sale.

Laugh, then, but make sure not to die laughing. The world wants all the cheerfulness it can get out of the man to laughter given.

SYCAMORE VALLEY.

We are glad to report no sickness in our village. The school is progressing nicely, and the singing conducted by Mr. John Homan is largely attended by his class every Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ruby and children, of Nelson county, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother-in-law, Marshall Keeling.

Mrs. J. D. Sutherland is home again from Sparrow, where she spent a week with her parents. She was accompanied by her uncle, Mr. J. L. Cammack.

Misses Bessie Hardesty, Lydia Scott, Lela and Tavia Goodlett and Messrs. Erastus Sea, of Polin, and Will Shiller, of Earl Cheatham, of Williamsburg, attended singing at the Hillsboro church Sunday evening.

Mrs. W. E. Sutherland and Miss Mayme B. Merritt spent Sunday with Mesdames T. W. and J. D. Sutherland.

Quite a number from this place attended the association at Glens Creek last Thursday and Friday.

Miss Hattie Settle visited at Williamsburg last Saturday.

Crops in this vicinity look well. The farmers are almost through cutting tobacco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland and Mrs. Pearl Sutherland and Miss Mayme Merritt visited Mrs. Deam Monday night.

Miss Ollie Sutton and Mr. Joe Noel, of Brookville, visited the Valley Saturday afternoon.

Miss Simpson and Mr. Hall, of Springfield, attended church at Hillsboro Sunday evening.

Our blacksmith is doing quite a lively business in the Valley. We think there is no other smith in the State like him.

DEEP CREEK.

There is some sickness in our vicinity. Little James, son of Mr. Otha Burns, is very ill with membranous croup at this writing.

The singing at Uncle George Elliott's Sunday was well attended. There is one to be given Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. C. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Coyle spent Sunday with Mrs. Myrtle Webb, who is said to be very sick.

John H. Elliott, Jr., was in Mackville Sunday.

Cousin Andrew Graves, of Jenkinsville, was the guest of the family of J. H. C. Elliott Saturday and Sunday.

The association to be held at the Baptist church, Bethlehem, near Texas, will take place Tuesday and Wednesday. Hope it will meet with great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Holderman were the pleasant guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison Sunday.

The news concerning Mr. Sidney Green's death caused much sorrow among his many friends here.

Mrs. Mollie Coyle and daughter, Mattie, spent Sunday with Mrs. Willie Coanougher.

Miss Clyde Coyle made her cousins, Misses Maggie and Sadie Coyle, a pleasant visit Sunday.

All the carpenters here are kept busy building tobacco barns.

The tobacco raisers are kept busy cutting and hauling their tobacco to the barn. Mr. W. B. Carpenter has some tobacco leaves that are twenty inches wide and forty-eight inches long. Grover Elliott also has some that are forty-eight inches long and twenty-four inches wide. These are the finest crops in our vicinity as reported by others.

Little Bryan, son of Mr. Dee Yankey, who has been confined to bed with an attack of fever, is reported much better at this writing.

The protracted meeting at Beech Grove begins Wednesday, September 6, as reported by the messengers, Messrs. Woodside Coyle and Norton Bradley.

Boys and Girls!

ROBERTSON BROTHERS.

HILLSBORO.

Farmers are very busy cutting and housing tobacco.

The dogs made a raid on Mr. John Shewmaker's sheep last week and killed six and wounded several others.

Messrs. Charley Hines and J. M. Montgomery were in the Fenwick neighborhood Saturday on business.

A large congregation heard Brother Williams preach a very interesting sermon Sunday afternoon. Every one was well pleased with him, and he is cordially invited to come again.

Mr. John Armstrong and family attended a meeting at Fairview Saturday.

Messdames Nan, Scott and Emma Coulter spent Monday at Mackville.

Several from Williamsburg attended meeting here Sunday.

Next Sunday will conclude the singing at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Holman spent Sunday with Mr. Lewis Clark and family.

The singing at Mr. Lewis Clark's Saturday night was rather a quiet affair, the attendance being small.

Mrs. Armond Chowning, of Berry, Ky., committed suicide with carbolic acid.

MOORESVILLE.

Born--To the wife of Palmer Chesner a 10-pound boy. To the wife of West Montgomery a 10-pound girl.

Mr. D. C. Cuttsinger has purchased of Herbert Edleman his interest in the late Alf. Benham place for $1,700. Possession given January 1, 1906.

Ralph Rest and Robert Tatham, of Taylorsville, are visiting at the home of Elijah Farris.

The Death Angel hovered around the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Strange for several days, and finally took from them their lovely child, Marvin, just twelve months and two weeks old. This sad event occurred September 1, 1905.

The remains were interred at Mt. Zion the following day.

About seventy-five people from here took in the Nelson county fair Saturday.

We had a delightful rain last Saturday. The tobacco men are housing their crop at a rapid rate.

Miss Ollie Yancey has returned to Louisville to resume her position.

Mrs. Fannie Lydanne, of Mooreville, visited Mrs. Ollie Edleman, at Booker, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Herbert Edleman has purchased of E. G. Boblitt the Mat. Trux improvements at this place for $1,000.

Mr. Thomas Hardin and family are no about well.

Mr. J. M. Wall is erecting a stripping room near his tobacco barn.

Mrs. Charles Ruby and family, and Miss Emma Wall, of Louisville, are visiting Shelby Crume this week.

Miss Emma Wells, of Tatham, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ed. Yocum.

Miss Wells and Mr. Yocum took in the Nelson county fair Saturday.

Mrs. Otho Cull, of Nelson county, is visiting Mrs. James Cull.

There was a large crowd out to hear Brother Adkins preach last Sunday. There will be no more preaching until the first Sunday in October, when it is thought a protracted meeting will begin.

Mrs. Maggie Sweeney and children, of Woodlawn, attended church at New Hope Sunday.

Miss Lella Wall and brother, Tony, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Lydia Boblitt, in Springfield, last Sunday.

Mrs. W. O. Ellis and daughter, Nancy, visited Mrs. Jesse Fife last Thursday.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Ivy Marlowe has typhoid fever, and hope she will soon be able to be out again.

The battleship Vermont was launched at Quincy, Mass.

Local News Notes.

If you have anything out of repair, don't forget G. B. Taylor, opposite The Sun office.

ESTRAYS.—Eight ewes came out our farm, near Springfield, August 29. Owner can have same by paying for this advertisement and their keep.

MAYES & SMITH.

FOR SALE.—100 acres upland land, near Fredericktown. Good improvements; house, barn, young orchard, well, some timber. Inquire of J. R. Connor, Fredericktown, Ky.

ESTRAY.—Red cow, white spots, came to my farm about July 15. Owner can have cow by paying for this advertisement and her keep.

G. W. WHEATLEY, Blincoe, Ky.

Judge I. H. Thurman is moving his two-story dwelling house from his farm to town, and he and his family will soon be "at home" on Grundy avenue.

Clarkson & Haydon sold Riley Wilkinson, of Nelson county, twenty-two head of 1,500-pound export cattle last week at 44 cents, to be delivered the first of October.

Rev. J. A. Taylor will begin a series of meetings at the Baptist church the first Sunday in October. Rev. Taylor is an able preacher, and the meeting will doubtless be a successful one.

While threshing wheat on the farm of Mr. V. H. McIntire on Monday morning a wheat stack caught fire from a spark from the engine and was completely consumed. It is estimated that about seventy-five bushels of wheat were lost.

Messrs. Hodapp & Miller have completed arrangements to move their harness factory to Louisville, and in the future they will be found at 138 West Main street. The people of Springfield and Washington county regret to lose the harness factory, as well as Messrs. Hodapp and Miller and their families.

The Central Association of Baptists met at Bethlehem church Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. A large crowd was in attendance both days, and very profitable meetings were held. Judge W. E. Sealeman was re-elected moderator, and Circuit Clerk Campbell was re-elected clerk of the association. The meeting is said to have been one of the most profitable in the history of the association.

The fall-term of the Springfield Graded School opened Monday with an enrollment of 240 pupils.

FOR RENT.—A cottage on East Main street, near the Graded School building, after September 1. Six rooms. Water in house. Apply to Dr. J. M. Burton.

The protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church, being conducted by Dr. Baughman, is proving a success. Dr. Baughman is an able preacher and his sermons are unusually interesting and instructive. Services are being largely attended and much interest manifested.

Dr. J. H. Hopper, who recently bought the residence of Dr. Roberts on Walnut street, has moved into it. Dr. Hopper's friends at Mackville regretted very much to see him leave; he had been with them for quite a number of years, and they recognized in him an able physician and a true friend. His office is in the Hagan block, over Hagan Bros' grocery.

Mr. S. M. Campbell, auctioneer, reports court at Harrodsburg Monday as being largely attended. There were about 200 head of cattle on the market and at least that many mule colts. Most of the cattle sold brought from 21 to 3 cents, and mule colts from $3.00 to $4.00. There were about ten buyers on the ground. A rubber-tire buggy sold for $45, and a new steel-tire buggy brought but $34.

BROOKSVILLE.

The Baptist association held at Glens Creek was well attended. There was a plenty of dinner on the ground.

Several from here attended the meeting at Fairview Sunday.

Miss Hester Noel has returned home from Tatham Springs.

Born.—To the wife of Thomas Young, August 31, a girl.

Mr. George Scroggins visited his daughter, Mrs. Lee Baxter, last week. Miss Lena Gibbs has returned home to Texas after a two-weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Milton Hobbs.

Messrs. Jim Adkins and Will Murphy, of Anderson county, visited at the home of A. C. Pinkston Thursday night. Mrs. Margaret Poulter is the guest of her son, Mr. B. Poulter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hardesty spent Thursday night with A. C. Pinkston.

MRS. JENNIE B. POWERS.

Agent of the Humane Society for New Hampshire and Vermont.

Mrs. Jennie B. Powers, an agent of the Humane Society for New Hampshire and Vermont, is a fearless woman in the discharge of her duties. Armed with the powers of a deputy sheriff, she is the personification of law when she puts her hand upon an animal.

The daughter of Captain E. W. Carter of the Fourth Vermont volunteers, who fought through the civil war, Mrs. Powers possesses the spirit to work in defense of dumb beasts and the children.

Fifteen years ago she jumped from a window in her Brattleboro home and stopped a man from beating his horses.

MRS. JENNIE B. POWERS.

The local humane society was reorganized, and her career as agent commenced.

For seven years, two of which have been spent in Quebec county, N. H., with an occasional trip beyond, her entire time has been given to such work. At the freight yards she has watched the loading of cattle, inspecting them on the cars.

The stories she tells and the pictures she shows of tasks performed. First one to look in wonder at the frail woman who has remained all night in a woodchopper's hut that she might put a crippled beast out of pain when the morning dawned, who has entered homes where her life has been threatened and taken the children to better quarters.

She is a determined person, as was shown in the prosecution of a man charged with starving his horse. Mrs. Powers fought the case through three terms of court at her own expense and at last won.

It is only during the last two years that she has taken to shooting condemned animals herself. In that time, however, she has ended the careers of 100 horses, cows, sheep, dogs and pigs. In shooting, she uses a hammerless fire shot revolver, made to order, with a barrel six inches in length, and has used to fire a second shot but once in her experience, and that was caused by darkness.

Mrs. Powers is a veterinary of no mean ability. She is a taxidermist, and has taken a course of entomology at Amherst college. She has the finest collection of bones taken from deceased animals in the country.—Boston Globe.

Cause of Flat Foot.

The power of the foot as a sustainer of the weight of the body is understood. The heel, great toe, and outer side of the foot form the three points of a tripod. An outward crowded great toe decreases the utility of the foot to just about a degree as it is forced from its normal position. The foot is frequently seen in children, as a result of effort made to have them toe out gracefully, says an authority. Tending in is often due to the conscientious effort to lessen the strain on the arch of the foot, produced by badly formed shoes. Few children will toe in if they wear properly shaped shoes. The exceptions are those with weak foot arches, for whom the shoes should be made with toes thicker on the inner than on the outer edge. The weight is thus shifted to the outer edge of the foot and the strain on the arch of the foot relieved. This makes toeing out an easy, if not an altogether natural, procedure.

The Nursery Walls.

The trouble with flowered wall papers is that they do not admit of pictures. Few children are content with a bedroom without pictures, and if their tastes are consulted, as they surely should be, the pictures selected for any room will be more or less military in character. The nursery or sitting room sacred to youth should be furnished with a view of permitting latitude in decoration. The walls should be plain but brown or green in soft tones, and the woodwork for preference, white. With such a background almost any decorative color scheme may be followed. Boys need to be encouraged to fit up their own rooms, and so, in these emancipated days, do many girls. The instinct is sure to step if made to order rooms are given children.

The Cost of Art Study.

A course of study at one of the leading New York art schools will cost, including supplies, about $500 a year.

By clubbing together in furnished rooms and doing light housekeeping, girls have managed to live on $5 a week, including laundry, with an occasional new dress sent on by the anxious mother. Girls who have succeeded adult thought took them all the way from one to five years mainly to secure a foothold among New York publishers. Statistics go to show that of the seven or eight hundred students who study annually in a certain New York school, famous for its brilliant faculty, an average of one and a half pupils remain and secure a success in New York city—Woman's Home Companion.

The Trick in Photography. Women who go through the frightful agony of being photographed—and after first youth it is nothing short of agony—should pay particular attention to the dressing of the neck, for that the photographer's skillful hand cannot remedy, as it does the wrinkles. A stock is almost invariably a feature of the next year. Ribbon bows disfigure the contour of the face. At the same time the neck must be distinctly "high or low"—a surplusage causing bad effects. Photographs and have such a horrid habit of lasting. And people bring them out and laugh at them!

Tonic For Dry Hair.

A most excellent tonic for dry and falling hair is made of one gill of almond oil, one ounce of burdock root, eight ounces each of oils of rosemary and thyme, and one and three-quarters drams of oil of bergamot, one-half dram of oil of lemon and the same of triple extract of orange. Place the burdock root in a glass jar and pour in the oil, then put the jar where it will keep warm, but not hot, for three days. Strain and add the rest of the ingredients. Massage this into the scalp every night.

To Darken Light Red Hair.

To darken light red hair make a tea by pouring a pint of boiling water over an ounce of henna leaves, broken. Cover and let it steep until the liquid is cold. Have the hair washed and thoroughly dried. Then apply the tea with a brush, letting it stay on for half an hour. Wash again in warm clear water. The tint may be darkened even more by making the tea stronger and letting it stay longer on the hair.

Etiquette and Good Sense.

When receiving a call from a young man a girl should not rock violently, laugh loudly or betray nervousness. Let her try to talk of what interests him, or lead him to do so. When he rises to go she should not hurry him, but a moment's hesitation of reluctance. She should not accompany him to the door, but take leave of him in the drawing room, expressing the hope of soon seeing him again.—Success.

Dry Cheese.

Dry cheese shows a careless housekeeper. It is a source of waste, as a dry, hard piece is usually thrown out. The cheese should be kept in buttered or oiled paper and kept in an airtight pan or one with a lid that fits closely. Cheese that is cut and soiled will be eaten. We be moist and fresh enough if merely wrapped in a damp cloth.

Look Your Best.

Always look your best, and afterwards have improved yourself as far as lies in your power then make sure that your dress is clean and neat. We be most beautiful, but we can try to be as beautiful as we can—and we all can certainly be courteous and win the love that even excessive beauty will not gain for us without the charm that accentuates it.

String Beans and Lima Beans.

Here is a rather uncommon dish of vegetables, but its excellence is vouchsafed for. Cook string beans and lima beans separately and when tender place them together in a saucepan with an ounce of butter, salt and pepper. Toss them together while cooking for a few minutes and serve with a little chopped parsley sprinkled over them.

Successful Dry Cleaning.

A woman who home cleans her laces and chiffons and other unwashable fabric has great success in a dry cleaning process of her own invention. Flimsy scarves and their like are rubbed gently in a mixture of three parts starch and one of borax. Then they are covered with a clean layer of the starch and borax and left overnight.

The Delicate Woman.

A delicate woman will have all her belongings as finished and trim as possible and not the least of these are the dress protectors. In all her thin gowns she uses the small size shields and puts a scant ruffle of narrow Valenciennes lace around the edges.

Bonnie's Silent Martyrs.

Every now and then an attempt for beauty complicity to the courts that the operation to correct facial blemishes was not only unsuccessful, but injurious. The name of the silent martyrs should be legion.—Washington Star.

At least once a week, if not oftener, the carpet sweeper should be thoroughly cleaned, the box wiped out with an oiled cloth, and the brush brushed with a whisk broom.

Mrs. Helen Campbell has said of the average kitchen: "There never was a place more ingeniously what it should not be."

Wetting the hair occasionally in a solution of salt and water will keep it from falling out.

Never sleep in any garment that has been worn through the day.

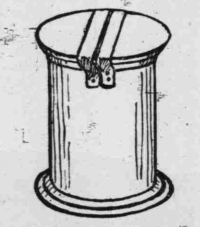

TALKING MACHINES.

They That Give a Fair Imitation of the Human Voice.

Would you like to make a talking machine? If you have a toy trumpet, pump the small end into the mouth of your hands over the large or funnel end. Now blow through the trumpet, and open and shut your hands once quickly. The syllable "ma" will be squeaked, and if you repeat this in a quick succession the word "mamma" will be spoken by the trumpet. It may have a strident sound, but it will nevertheless be a spoken word.

Another good imitation of the human voice may be made by taking a large empty spool, and stretching across the hole at one end two rubber bands. The bands must be close together at their edges, but must not overlap. You can take or tie the ends over the side of the spool.

When you blow through the other end of the spool the bands vibrate like the human vocal cords and make a sound something like the human voice, which will change according to the force with which you blow.

A TEASING PASTIME.

The Way to Play the Game Robin on the Ridgepole.

Whoever takes the part of Robin must be the first step of the game, while all the other players in the game, who are his tormentors, stand at the foot of his perch, close at hand. Robin is supposed to be a very vain fellow who does nothing but preen his feathers in the hope of attracting admiration. His tormentors torment him with this, shouting derisively: "Preen your feathers, Robin, the ridgepole high! Perhaps Miss Daisy Robin will be passing by."

Hope she turns her head away, never sees you, you say. Such a silly bachelors.

Just when Robin will become thoroughly provoked at this treatment no one can tell, but when he does he makes a sudden spring among the players, and they as quickly jump away. After this each has three jumps, hops or strides in which the tormentors seek to escape while Robin tries to catch them.

If the latter captures no one in the first attempt he has to mount the ridgepole again and put up with a repetition of their derision until he does so. The unlucky person upon whom he succeeds in laying hands then takes his place.

To Make Fine Soap Bubbles.

Make a heavy sand of pure white castile soap. Take off every bit of the lather; dip a clay pipe into the clear solution and blow a bubble. If you cannot make one six inches in diameter, add soap until you can. When a bubble six inches in diameter will hang from the pipe, dip your finger in the soap water and then try to push it into the bubble. If you cannot do it, it needs more soap. When you can do this without the bubble bursting you are ready for business. There is end to the wonderful things you can do with such bubbles, but bear in mind that when once the soapy water is just right it must not be disturbed so as to break up the smooth surface.—Advances.

Riddles.

Why is a naughty boy like an old codger? Because a good calling would do him both good.

Why should a bee know how to make itself comfortable? Because it is two-thirds made from ease (E's).

Why is a postage stamp most unfortunate thing? Though it sticks to its duties to the very better, it gets its head punched, its face disfigured and a good licking.

Why does a stylish woman resemble a boxer? Because both wear gloves.

What apple is like the fashionable sprightly shop? The russet.

Two Wags.

When Cousin Alice pays a call she takes her cards, so neat and small. She always wears her finest frock; she stays ten minutes by the clock.

Then says "Goodby" and comes away Without one bit of play.

Why, on the square, we shouldn't call Bob visits any fun at all.

I run across to Bessie's door In plain old dress and miniflow.

And Bessie's very sure to say, "Take off your hat, and then let's play."

We make a playhouse on the floor; I stay an hour and sometimes more.

And, oh, such games! I wouldn't do Like Alice for the world, would you?

Oh, ours is much the nicer way; "Take off your hat, and then let's play."
